WELLMAN'S AIRSHIP IS LOST

SAYS LINK IS HERDING THE WILCOX VOTE

FOUR CUSTOMS OFFICERS LOSE JOBS

The resignations of two deputy collectors and two inspectors in the customs service are in the hands of Collector E. R. Stackable, as a result of a report to the collector of a game of "seven-eleven" in the custom house during the hours of the late watch a short time ago. Those who have resigned are Deputy Collector E. A. Jacobson, Deputy Collector C. H. Raven, and Inspectors Noyes and Bowers.

The game was seen, it is stated, by R. C. Stackable, a brother of the collector, and reported to him. Inquiries were immediately made, and the collector is said to have been prepared to take steps to remove all those implicated, there being stringent regulations against any kind of gambling on the custom house premises.

The four members of the service tendered their resignations, and this, it is said, will end the matter.

All of the men are efficient officers and some of them have been in the service many years and have splendid records. The news of their being so suddenly out of the service created a great sensation among the other members of the force.

SAY LINK IS THE NEW BOB WILCOX; WARM TIMES AT THE DEMOCRATIC HEADQUARTERS

The Republicans open their regular campaign in the Fifth district tonight, with a meeting at the corner Liliha and School streets. The county, senatorial and Fifth district representative candidates will be speakers.

The Fifth, according to Achi, is the real battleground of the campaign. "I think Hawaii is safe now," said Achi, who went with Kuhio and made a few speeches on Hawaii. "Maui too is all right and Kauai was never in danger. The place for the real fighting is in the Fifth District on Oahu."

"In my opinion the election of Kuhio will take place, by a larger lead over McCandless than last time. But the Fifth district will have to be looked after, and that is where I want to see the Republicans do their best campaigning."

Appearances at Democratic headquarters bear out Achi's ideas to a considerable extent. The big quarters engaged for the party in the Waverley block are full of Fifth district political workers nearly all the time. Yesterday Link addressed a gathering of about forty of them at once, telling them what arguments to put forward in the precincts. Today the scenes were the same, the big hall was crowded with Hawaiians, all political workers, and there were long consultations as to campaign methods. The Princess Theresa was among those consulting with Secretary Rivenburgh. "These Hawaiians are all working for nothing," said John Effinger, who was a member of the Democratic convention. "Not since the days of the first campaign, in which Wilcox beat Sam Parker, has there been shown such a spirit among the Hawaiians as now. The Republicans cannot get anyone to work for them except by paying for services. Here are hundreds of political runners coming for instructions, and all working free. The Hawaiians have never before worked for a white man politically as they are now working for McCandless."

Grave doubts are expressed by many, however, as to whether the work is all being done free. The McCandless sack is kept pretty well hidden, but it is generally believed that most of the runners are considered worthy of their hire.

The Republican headquarters are a striking contrast to the Democratic headquarters in the matter of runners. The G. O. P. committee meets on the third floor of the Judd building. Things are comparatively quiet and except on special days, not more than half a dozen workers are in evidence. It is seldom at any hour that there are less than thirty around the Democratic rooms.

That is why some of the few intelligent former leaders of the Democracy who still stick to Link are claiming that the fight is already won. They say that Link has revived the Wilcox party and made it a Link McCandless party.

It is said that a thousand dollars was paid for the little Honolulu Examiner, formerly owned by Mrs. Theresa Wilcox Bellevue. There were rumors that it was about to turn against the Democratic immigration plank.

HINDUS NEARLY ALL REJECTED AT SAN FRANCISCO

OUT OF A HUNDRED AND ELEVEN WHO WENT THROUGH HERE ON THE ASIA, A HUNDRED AND TEN ARE ABOARD TODAY RETURNED AS REJECTED IMMIGRANTS, MOSTLY ON ACCOUNT OF HOOKWORM DISEASE.

The Pacific Mail steamer Asia arrived in port this morning berthing at the Alakea street wharf shortly before eight o'clock. She had on board seventy-eight cabin passengers, seven in the second class and 256 in the steerage, a grand total of 341. In addition she had 1500 tons of general freight below decks, including 300 tons of cotton and 200 tons of tan bark, the cotton being for Japan. Among the steerage passengers were 126 Hindus, and 53 Chinese who have been deported, and who are being returned to their port of embarkation.

From the number of Hindus who are being returned from the States it would seem that Dr. Glover's discovery of the prevalence of the hookworm disease among these people will prove a more effectual bar to the continued immigration of Hindus into the States than all the arguments and protestations of the anti-Indian party.

On her last trip to San Francisco the Asia took 111 Indians who desired admission into the States and of these all excepting one are still on board the Asia, having been turned down by the immigration officers. The result of Dr. Glover's investigations prior to the arrival of the Asia had convinced him that three-quarters of the Indians who applied for admission to the states were afflicted with the disease and his examination of the 111 on the Asia more than confirmed this opinion for 75 were rejected on that account. The remaining thirty-six were rejected on the ground that they might become public charges. The drastic action which has been adopted will no doubt lead to a falling off in the number of emigrants from India, for the shipping companies who are bound to return rejected applicants to the port of departure are not likely to take any chances and the Hindus will probably submit themselves to a closer medical examination before paying fares across the Pacific and indemnifying the shipping companies against loss.

Several changes have been made in the personnel of the staff on the Asia. She has now a complete change of engineers, and second officer Barneson has resigned. Third officer Matthews has moved up to second, and Mr. Thomas has joined the ship as third. Freight Clerk Cummins has resigned and has been superseded by W. J. D. Young, who spent some years in the Pacific Mail office in Hongkong during the regime of S. Silverstone as agent. Purser Hunt is still on board and looks after passengers with his usual good natured courtesy.

The trip across was a quiet one, no dances or entertainments being arranged, excepting a moving picture exhibition which Captain Gaukruger supplied.

Passengers laying over here include Mr. W. H. Baugh and A. F. Reiger.

The Asia will leave for Japan and China this afternoon at four o'clock.

Already hundreds of inmates of the religious establishments have crossed the border, but the most interesting event today in connection with the edict of expulsion was the release from custody of Cardinal Ugo, former patriarch of Lisbon, whose arrest, the Minister of Justice explained, was for the purpose of protecting him from possible outrage.

AIRSHIP PARTY PICKED UP BY OCEAN STEAMER

(Associated Press Cable to The Star.)

NEW YORK, October 18.—Walter Wellman and party have been picked up in mid-ocean by the steamer Trent, having lost their airship and taken to the water in the lifeboat which they carried with them. The attempt to fly across the Atlantic in the big dirigible America proved a failure very soon after the start.

The aeronauts report that they were blown off their course and finally compelled to abandon the airship. They descended and succeeded in launching the life boat and taking their places in it. They were 150 miles off Cape Hatteras when compelled to take to the water.

Wellman started early last Saturday morning, and for about twenty-four hours made fair progress, reporting by wireless.

LISBON, October 18.—The government has issued a decree forever exiling the representatives of the House of Braganza, of which King Manuel was the reigning head.

The jury returned a verdict of suicide in the case of the death of William William Brede, who shot himself yesterday morning. The letter left behind by Brede was addressed to his daughter and mother and in it he bade them farewell, but gave no reason for committing suicide.
